The Newsletter for the Village of Pinckney

From the desk of Rebecca Foster, Village President

Doing things “the Pinckney way” has its advantages, especially in tough economic times. If we can shave $50 off an expense or a budget item, we’ll do it! And it pays off – while other communities are looking at tax increases or cuts in services, the Village is managing to maintain services to residents while keeping our millage at the same rate it was in 2004. Our fund balance is healthy. Our debt is low. Our audits are good. And we’ve managed to stay off the front page of the local paper for quite a while now (knock on wood!). While there are never any guarantees for the future, at the moment, we are hunkered down and ready to ride out the economic woes that continue to plague Michigan.

A great example of our way of doing things is our “new” Department of Public Works building at the former Patterson Lake Products site. We kept one pole building intact during the demolition, and the guys have been plugging away at rehabbing it over the past year. It’s not fancy. It is big. And our DPW has done a lot of the work themselves, including some pretty savvy shopping –

A note from our Department of Public Works:

A reminder that Village Ordinance 92.64 talks about sidewalk encroachment. The ordinance, passed in 2000, states:

- ◆ All trees, bushes and shrubs in the street right-of-way of the Village of Pinckney shall be trimmed or pruned by the abutting property owner so that no branch thereof grows or hangs lower than eight and one-half feet above the level of the sidewalk, and shall also be pruned so that they shall not encroach onto the sidewalk or street.
- ◆ All trees, bushes and shrubs on private property, the branches of which extend over the line of a street, or sidewalk shall be trimmed and pruned so that no branch grows or hangs over the line of the street or sidewalk lower than eight and one-half feet above the level of the sidewalk and shall also be pruned so that they shall not encroach onto the street or sidewalk.

scouring the U of M property surplus for office and break room furniture, and scoring big with used glass and metal medical cabinetry for the shop. They also tried to shop local as much as possible with bids for electrical, doors and other services.

We hope to have them moved in this fall. We’re thinking of having a party. And because it’s Pinckney, you’ll have to bring your own chair, and it will be a potluck...but it will be good!

Outdoor Furnaces Ordinance Adopted 7/27/2009

It shall be unlawful to install or operate a free-standing fuel-burning furnace, within the Village of Pinckney.

Save on your energy bill this winter

The simple act of planting trees can decrease the energy you need to cool your space, as well as provide a place to hang a tire swing.

Shade trees can reduce the need for air conditioning by 7% to 40%, according to research by the Department of Energy and the Sacramento Municipal Utility District. Shaded walls are 9 to 36° F cooler at peak temperatures.

Trees raise property values and provide many other benefits. According to the U.S. Forest Service, a 1985 study estimated the values of an average 50-year old shade tree as: air conditioning worth $73, soil erosion and storm water management worth $75, wildlife shelter worth $75, and air pollution control worth $50 — a total of $273. In 1989, a total value of $57,151 was estimated for the life of a typical tree.

Get the best results by planting trees to the west and southwest of buildings. Deciduous plants work well in temperate zones, because they block sunlight in summer but let it in during chilly months. Spring and fall are the best times to plant them.

Downtown Development Association Façade Program

The Pinckney DDA offers a Downtown Improvement Program to anyone owning property (home or business) in the DDA district. The façade program was established to encourage visual improvements to existing building facades, signs (for businesses) and awnings to enhance the district.

The program will provide property and/or business owners with cash rebates of up to 50% of the total cost of the project for materials purchased from businesses in the Village of Pinckney, or 35% for materials purchased from businesses outside the Village of Pinckney up to a maximum of $3000 (for businesses) or up to a maximum $500 (for residential buildings). Project plans, including estimated costs, are to be submitted to the DDA Building Improvement Committee for review on a monthly basis. The committee will review the project and make a recommendation to the DDA Board.

Paperwork is available in the Clerk’s Office or will be available on the village website very soon.

Friendly Reminders from the Zoning Department

Requests for placement at this location must be made in writing to the Zoning Administrator two weeks prior to placement of the sign. Signs placed in the right of way without permission will be removed.

Temporary signs shall not exceed six square feet in area and four feet in height; and no sign, or portion thereof, shall be closer than four feet to any electric light pole, street lamp or other public utility pole or standard. No sign, or portion thereof, shall be closer than 13 feet to any electrical conductor without proof of approval by the public utility company. Dealing with the effects of Emerald Ash borers

Ash with 60% dieback

Dead and dying ash trees are a widespread problem in Southeastern Michigan, due to the emerald ash borer, an insect that have invaded ash trees in several states. As a result, the trees, which may grow to heights of 60 feet, become structurally unstable and may fall at any time.

Detroit Edison is seeing more and more incidents in which ash trees located far from power lines on private property are falling and damaging power lines. For that reason, Detroit Edison is encouraging people to remove these trees from their property.

There is an expense with the tree removal, however, the potential for injury or death to others or damage to home, vehicles or property is far worse and property insurance may not cover damage caused by the dead or dying trees.

Village Directional Signs

It took much longer than expected, but the Downtown Development Authority was finally able to have directional signage installed throughout the Village. Using preliminary designs by the Pinckney High School architectural drafting class, R. Gari Signs of Pinckney produced and installed the signs this spring. We've already had many positive comments!

The Village of Pinckney takes pride in offering several environmentally responsible options for trash disposal.
